Abstract

In this paper discuss and throw light on concept of use of open source software because the impact of ICT and his development change the educational scenario. Now a days many open source software applications are available for library and information management, the organization have an option to acquire and implement such kind application. Today library promote the global use of digital information through interface and satellite and provide the information to user but at the same time library face so many problems. It also discuss the reasons to use open source software, advantages and disadvantages. All library professionals must be aware about the advantages of OS software and use it in their library for the sake of users on a large scale.
Each and every library professional must have at least basic knowledge of maintenance, selection and installation. This paper discuss the definition, feature and software of open source library management.
