

Peer Reviewed Referred and UGC
Listed Journal (Journal No. 40776)

ISSN 2277 - 5730
AN INTERNATIONAL
MULTIDISCIPLINARY QUARTERLY
RESEARCH JOURNAL

AJANTA

Volume - IX, Issue - I
January - March - 2020
English Part - I /
English Part - II

Impact Factor / Indexing
2019 - 6.399
www.sjifactor.com

Ajanta Prakashan

CONTENTS OF ENGLISH PART - II

S. No.	Title & Author	Page No.
10	Approaches to Women Empowerment: Bihar Perspective Dr. Suresh Kumar Roy	58-63
11	The Work of Gopal Krishna Gokhale Relating to the Hindi People in South Africa Dr. Atul A. Ohal	64-69
12	Natural Indicator Extracted from Flower Petals Dr. Rupali A. Gulalkari	70-75
13	A Study of Vigilance System for Addressing the Violence of Female Sex Workers of Nasik City Dr. Girija Ranasing Thakur Mr. Ravindra Pawar Dr. B. D. Kokate	76-84
14	A Analytical Study of Agro-Tourism in Maharashtra Prof. Anil N. Shinde	58-89
15	A Critical Analysis of Ruskin Bond's Short Story 'The Thief', in the light of Emotional Intelligence Dr. Shivraj N. Kombe	90-94
16	Awareness of Home Science among Junior College Students: A Comparative Study between Aurangabad and Parbhani District in Marathwada Region Ms. Sandhya P. Powale Dr. Surekha Gaikwad	95-101
17	Planning For Strength - Power Training in Track and Field Dr. Bhagwat Vinayak Bajrang	102-108
18	British Colonialism in India Dr. Sambhaji Sopanrao Darade	109-111
19	The Buddhist Community Leader Development Guideline by Buddhist Peaceful Means in Maharashtra, India Nattakit Chaichalermmongkhon Asst. Prof. Khanthong Watthanapradith	112-120

14. A Analytical Study of Agro-Tourism in Maharashtra

Prof. Anil N. Shinde

Dr. C. D. Deshmukh College Roha, Dist. Raigad.

Abstract

Agri-tourism is currently coming in a big way. Because of this business, the farmer can make more money through this business than he can get from farming. Because of its potential for agricultural tourism, the government has been implementing a large number of schemes at the government level to initiate agricultural tourism with every farmer because of the various schemes and increasing demand in this area. Agricultural tourism is a foreign concept. It is very popular in Brazil, New Zealand, and Australia. This is a big name in our country now. But if you look at this with proper planning and foresight, it will not take long for Maharashtra to emerge as a major state in agricultural tourism. Let's face it. Agricultural tourism is a great alternative to relentlessly coming back to nature to get rid of all the constant traffic, pollution, changing lifestyles and the various diseases that come with it, the daily flickering and whims of life. This gives farmers more income and gives urban people a chance to go to nature.

Introduction

"Agricultural tourism is a combination of agriculture, rural life, and tourism."

Agricultural tourism is tourism of the farm, the identity of our culture, the happiness, the people who have grown accustomed to the urban lifestyle, live on the farmer's farm for some days and agricultural tourism is the hospitality paid by the farmer by the farmer. Agricultural tourism in line with this sentence, rural development through agricultural tourism and development of Maharashtra through rural development. Agribusiness is an agricultural project that supports the production of agricultural tourism. Agricultural tourism started in Australia around the world about two years ago. In Maharashtra, the first agricultural experiment in Baramati, by the late Shree Appasaheb Pawar, was done in this place. However, admission is being done by charging a fee. This is widely known as the tour of agriculture studies. People are turning to tourism as the biggest business. It is mainly because of the large number of agrarian